VERY REV. WILLIAM L. KELEHER, S.J.

I have hoped that, in this issue, I might be able to present a definite program of what the college will do in the months or years ahead, but the uncertainty of things makes this impossible. So much depends on how Congress moves that it would be unwise to announce a new schedule or curriculum at the moment. It is not beyond the possible that what I write now will be changed by the time it has reached your hands.

We are prepared with the choice of several possibilities, anyone of which can be adopted on short notice, allowing for acceleration or other adaptations, depending on the situation as it finally comes to us.

Our advice to the students is to proceed with caution and make no hasty decisions which cannot be undone. Should the resolutions adopted by the American Association of Colleges prove acceptable to Congress and the military authorities, it is more than likely that the academic year will not be upset. However, until we know what procedure the government agencies are going to follow, we can make no definite commitments. Throughout the schools on the campus, we have established special counseling departments where the students may receive the best advice with regard to all the services.

The opening of the Alumni Centre has been delayed because of materials. The reactions of those who have visited the building during the days of reconstruction have been most favorable, and I am sure that all the members of the Association will be very happy with what is being done.

I sincerely trust that the officers of your Association will have your complete support in their efforts to make the annual Communion Day a great success. I look on it as an opportunity for all of us to join together in an act of faith in God and a manifestation on the part of all Boston College men of their trust in His Divine Providence. Certainly, a gathering of this sort, men joined in prayer for peace, cannot but win for us and for all those dear to us great blessings and graces from on high.

COMMUNION BREAKFAST

BISHOPS MACKENZIE AND WRIGHT TO ADDRESS ALUMNI

Between 1200 and 1500 Alumni and students are expected at the Corporate Communion Breakfast which will be held on Sunday, February 25 at the Copley Plaza following 9 o'clock Mass at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross.

This religious observance will be the occasion for an inspiring demonstration of faith by the Alumni and students of the largest Catholic college in New England at a time when faith is so necessary. In view of the prevalent confusion and uncertainty caused by a world of strife, hatred and fear, the Mass and Holy Communion will be offered up on February 25 for peace, the kind of peace that is expressed in the following prayer: "O God, from whom all holy desires, right counsels and just works do proceed, give to Thy servants that peace which the world cannot give; that our hearts may be disposed to obey Thy commandments, and the fear of enemies being removed, our times, by Thy protection, may be peaceful through Christ, Our Lord, Amen.

Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, Auxiliary Bishop of Boston and President of the Class of 1914 will deliver the sermon at the Mass.

After Mass the group will walk to the Copley Plaza for breakfast. At the breakfast the principal speaker will be Most Rev. John J. Wright, '31, Bishop of Worcester. His address will be broadcast over station WORL (950KC) at 11.15 A.M., enabling Alumni attending similar breakfasts at a distance from Boston to hear him.

Very Rev. William L. Keleher, S.J., College president, and John B. Atkinson, '16, Alumni president, will also speak to the Alumni.

Tickets ($2.50 each) may be obtained from club and class presidents or from the Alumni office.

Louis F. Musco, '34, is general chairman. He is assisted by John J. Brennan, '33; Arthur F. Leddy, '31; Edward M. Gallagher, Jr., '32; James F. Sullivan, '42; A. Roy Tribble, '28; George K. Coyne, '30; Daniel I. Cronin, '34; John H. Flynn, '27; David J. Lucey, '40; Felix Doherty, '31; Lawrence J. Fitzgerald, '39; Nathaniel J. Hasenfus, '22; M. Frank Nolan, '18, and club and class representatives.

ALUMNI HALL

After a series of delays due to a shortage of materials needed in the reconstruction of the building, Alumni Hall will be ready for occupancy by the middle of February. The newest building on the campus will have the administrative offices move in and then the social halls will be available for future reservations.

Alumni Hall will contain the Alumni office, Public Relations and Publicity offices and Placement Bureau as well as the offices of the undergraduate publications.

The size of the building is deceptive from the outside because the interior is quite spacious. On the first floor will be found a lounge room. Directly over it is a large hall to be used for gatherings and dinners. Adjacent to it is a modern equipped kitchen. In the basement is another large room for social functions or committee meetings. Smaller rooms are also available for committee meetings.

Alumni in their generosity willing to help furnish the building may do so by purchasing a B. C. chair. The price for one chair is $20.00.

LIBRARY EXHIBIT

Eight works of Irish artists and a rare reproduction of the Irish Book of Kells, the world's most famous illuminated manuscript, will be publicly exhibited at Boston College Library for the first time, Feb. 14 through March 24, following a private showing on Feb. 3 from 8 to 10 p.m., for the Friends of the Boston College Library. Hours of public exhibition are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Mon. through Fri. and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday.

The Book of Kells, dating from the sixth or ninth century, contains the four Gospels in Latin, written and illuminated by Irish monks.

Paintings and drawings to be exhibited include two items whose acquisition by the College has not previously been announced. They are a charcoal drawing of an Aran Island boatman, and a painting of a scene from Synge's famous play, "Playboy of the Western World," both by Sean Keating. Also to be shown are Richard King's portrait of James Jeffrey Roche, and a water-color of his birthplace, Irish scenes by Paul Henry and Frank McElvey, and a portrait by Margaret Clarke.

WASHINGTON, D. C. CLUB

Alumni assigned to the Washington area in connection with military duties during the emergency program are invited to join the Washington Club.

Contact the Secretary, James F. O'Donnell, '44, Lawrence and O'Donnell, 917 Fifteenth St., N. W., Washington, 5 (REpublic 8505).

ENTRANCE EXAMS

Students planning to enter the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Business Administration in September must submit their applications by March 1. Entrance examinations will be held on April 14.

NEW ALUMNI PREFERENCE PLAN

The Boston College Dramatic Society has inaugurated a new Alumni preference plan. A special section of the campus auditorium will be reserved for Alumni and their guests at all future dramatic productions. Alumni desiring to sit in this special section must purchase or reserve their tickets in advance of the public sale. Tickets are $1.20 tax included. The next production is "The Devil to Pay," on the evenings of April 13, 14 and 15. For further information call Father McEwen, S.J., at DEcatur 2-3200.

THIRD GENERATION FAMILIES

Alumni records reveal that two families have sent sons to Boston College for three generations. The first to do so was the Hurley family. Thomas J. Hurley graduated in 1885. He was the composer of "Hail Alma Mater" and "For Boston." His son, Thomas S., graduated in 1918, and grandson, Thomas S. Jr., in 1950.

John J. Cadigan, M.D., graduated in 1891, followed by his son, Francis C., in 1929. Francis C. Jr., will graduate in 1951.

INDUSTRIAL TECHNIQUES

CBA FEATURES INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT LABORATORY

There is always a great sense of satisfaction in talking with Alumni returning to Boston College, with businessmen visiting the campus, and the general public on sightseeing tours. It is interesting to note their marvelling at the growth of the College, in size of student body, the increase in number of buildings, and the addition of educational features which have been added to maintain its lofty educational position.

Probably the greatest source of their amazement, rightful pride, and consequent welcomed curiosity are the features found in the College of Business Administration building. On the first floor of this edifice there are two features under the administration of the Industrial Management Department—an industrial exhibition room and an industrial management laboratory. Since the primary purpose of this article is to explain the latter, it will be mentioned merely in passing here that the Exhibition room contains displays contributed by industry. These displays are of a month's duration and each one illustrates various industrial topics to supplement the students' classroom discussion. It has been very beneficial in giving the students first-hand knowledge of various production processes and incidentally in increasing tremendously the number of companies in contact with Boston College.

In Room 114 of the C.B.A. is located the Industrial Management Laboratory, the physical setting for the Industrial Techniques course. On any class day if you should stroll past the west side of the College of Business Administration, you will see a basement work-shop filled with a wide assortment of machines. At these machines you will observe a group of men working while others stand behind carefully clocking the operations to a split second meticulously scrutinizing every movement of the worker. Worker and observer are both students of the C. B. A. where they are specializing in the field of Industrial Management.

Professor John J. Brennan, Jr., 1942 graduate of the C. B. A., is the Chairman of the Industrial Management Department and the Laboratory is one of his favorite projects because of its great benefit to the students and the School. Mr. Joseph D'Avella is the Instructor in the Industrial Techniques course and the balance of the staff consists of Messrs. Paul Mulkern '38 and Paul O'Donnell.

The purpose of the Laboratory and the course is very definitely not to make the student a trained machine operator but rather to help in developing him into a practical, well-trained, better understanding executive. This is accomplished in many ways. The Industrial Techniques course is one of the well integrated group of courses in the Industrial Management Department, others being Industrial Procurement, Personnel Management, Labor Relations, Production Control, Motion and Time Study, Cost Control and Administrative Policies.

In all of these courses the human element, the importance of getting things done through people is constantly being stressed and this is especially true in the Industrial Techniques course. Here the student acquires the viewpoint of the worker by actually doing the shop work and machine operations. When the student graduates and takes his place in industry and is concerned with personnel or labor relations work, he will be able to recruit a more representative work force since he is familiar with its job requirements from actual experience and he will appreciate the problems of the workers, thereby better furthering labor-management relations.

As a purchasing agent he will know the qualities of various types of metals and other materials to aid in his procurement program. He will have a practical knowledge of production control, and motion and time analysis, having solved actual business problems in these fields in the most practical surroundings. Throughout the course the student is constantly striving to do the work in the most economical, efficient manner, thereby developing within himself a cost consciousness. It may be summarized by saying that the student will be a much better administrator because of his practical training.

It is generally agreed that Boston College was the first school to introduce this type of physical setup. Since its adoption other colleges have followed this pattern. Physically the Laboratory is laid out assimilating actual working conditions so that the educational process may be as practical as possible. It contains the more standard types of production machines, such as, engine lathes, bench lathes, milling machines, a surface grinder, a tool grinder, drill presses, a power saw, a shaper, an arbor press, and other minor tools of production. There is also a tool crib containing approximately 175 items, a metal stock pile of raw materials and a large clock specially designed for time studies that must be accurate to the tenth of a second. Interspersed throughout the room are permanent exhibits contributed by several companies interested in this project realizing that the future administrators are in the college ranks today. The list of companies aiding in the development of the Industrial Management Laboratory is a tribute to the cooperation of industry and the reciprocal benefits that can accrue to both education and industry because of this close alliance.

CBA STUDENTS OPERATING LATHES, DRILL PRESSES, MILLING MACHINES AND LEARNING WORK SETUP IN THE APPLICATION OF INDUSTRIAL TECHNIQUES.

To make the facilities even more realistic the room has recently been painted in accordance with the color dynamics program of industry. The walls, machines, and other accessories are appropriately painted to ease eye strain and to further work efficiency.

The plant is not a toy or a model of what a plant should be but a real work shop. At current values it would represent an investment of about $30,000.

In the Industrial Techniques course he students learn the reading of blueprints, and apply this knowledge in operating the various machines. To make this application more realistic and practical the student is required to construct the blueprints for a personalized pen set and actually manufacture it on the machines. This set is embossed with the seal of Boston College and the student's name.

Throughout the course the various types of processes such as, metal casting, plastic molding, powder metallurgy, hot and cold forming of metals, foundry practice, and pattern work are analyzed and the different inspection-measuring instruments and gauges are studied and applied.

Movie slides and films are used for illustrative purposes.

This project compels the student to apply the various principles of Industrial Techniques as well as the features of production and methods work in order to complete the job satisfactorily.

The Laboratory is a big step forward in education. It is a stride in the right direction towards improved labor-management relations and in developing more competent executives. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. The Industrial Management graduates have more than carried out the objectives of the course. They generally have had very good success in acquiring positions in this field because they can offer the prospective employer the logical reasoning acquired from the Philosophy courses, the application of this reasoning to the analysis of actual business cases, the core of the Industrial Management courses, and the realistic training received in Industrial Techniques.

Professor John Brennan extends to all alumni and friends a cordial invitation to visit the College and to see the Industrial Management Laboratory in operation.

SPORTS

Charles J. Harvey, '49

On December 30, 1950, a Boston College Alumnus was named as head coach of his Alma Mater's football team. Mike Holovak is not an ordinary Alumnus, but rather, a tradition in the memorable past of B. C. football, and should make a very fine head coach.

The job was given to Mike and in this world of sports experts, Holovak's appointment was approved by those in the know. The 31 year old former All American and All Professional League fullback came to B. C. in 1939. From his home in Lansford, Pa., Mike went to Seton Hall Prep School, thence to the Heights.

His three years of varsity football at Boston College ended with the name of Holovak being enrolled in the Hall of Eagle Gridiron Immortals and a model for younger athletes following him. Service with the Navy P. T. boat fleet followed Mike's graduation in Mar. of 1943 and after a year and a half of sea duty Holovak got his first taste of coaching. Mike served as a player-coach with the Melville, Rhode Island P. T. Squadron and had an enviable four and one record. His only loss was to a great West Point eleven.

Upon discharge from the Navy Mike joined the Los Angeles Rams professional football team for one year. From the West coast Holovak went to Chicago and two outstanding years with the Bears. Holovak had learned quite a bit about football and coaching by this time. He had played under such coaches as Frank Leahy (1939-40), Denny Myers (1941-42), Adam Walsh (1946), and George Halas (1947-48). All these men gave Mike a foundation and the fundamentals with which he may start. His start was two undefeated years as freshman coach at Boston College. Holovak returned to B. C. in 1949.

Gil Bouley

Mike Holovak has announced the selection of Gil Bouley as his chief assistant and line coach. Gil first played varsity football at B. C. in 1941. At the time the former tackle won All-American honors. After the war he joined the Cleveland Rams going with them to Los Angeles when the franchise was transferred.

The hockey team, while losing three games and winning five, has started to show its true potential. Coach John Kelley's sextet started off with a 4-1 win over Brown University, last season's Ivy League Champion, and then dropped a 3-6 decision to a very strong McGill team from Montreal. An easy 11-2 victory over Tufts foreshadowed nothing as the Eagles dropped the next two games, 3-5 to an inspired Harvard team, and a 2-11 drubbing by powerful Michigan University. But B. C. bounced back to defeat last year's National Champion, Colorado College 4-1, and Northeastern 4-2. The big win of the season to date, was the mild upsetting of Boston University, 4-2. Coach Kelley's young team played the type of hockey that wasn't actually expected of it for a least another year and turned aside the strong B. U. six. Franny Harrington of Norwood, a senior, held back Terrier ace Jack Garrity by being every place that Garrity went. This was the third time that Garrity has been held from scoring a point in his college career. The first time was a year ago when B. C. downed B. U. 2-1 and Harrington covered Garrity the same then, again against Michigan. the B. U. star was stopped, and then this last B. C. game.

MIKE HOLOVAK, '43
Successor to Denny Myers

Coach Al McClellan's basketball team, at this writing, boasts a six and one record. Victories have been registered over American International College (80-41), Arnold College (92-53), Rhode Island State (79-76), Boston University (88-48), Harvard (76-48), and Providence College (84-54). The one loss was to the University of Connecticut at Storres, Conn., 52-56.

On Sunday, December 10, 1950, Father John O'Connor dedicated a statue to Our Lady of Fatima at St. Margaret's, Brockton. The parishioners of St. Columbkille's, Brighton, honored Father "Bill" Daly on his promotion to the rank of Monsignor.

Father John Cunningham is recovering from his recent operation. The Class extends condolences to him on the death of his sister who died just before Christmas.

Kindly remember in your prayers our beloved classmate, Joe Williams. Also Ensign Daniel Gillis reported missing in an airplane accident.

Bill Downey's son, Maurice, a senior at the College, has been appointed Editor-in-Chief of the Sub Turri.

Jerry Shea's boy expects to join the Army and will probably be in uniform by this time.

Al Brennan's boy was recently married and has been recalled to duty by the Navy; John Hopkin's boy is secretary of the Medford Chamber of Commerce; Fred Gillis' son, David, is training with the Army in Michigan while his other son, Bill, is a lieutenant with a tank battalion in Korea. May your New Year be a blessed and happy one.

John "Porky" Flynn, our unselfish leader who numbers many activities in his busy life including membership in the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association, has been elected president of the Boston College Club of Newton. Ed Tracy has had a long hospitalization at the Boston City which carried him through Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years. He is gaining strength. Son Tom is on duty at Fort Meade, Maryland. "Bo" Mahoney reports that son Roland, Jr., has been called for duty with the Army Intelligence Reserve.

Nick Petrocelli is now carrying on an insurance business from his home. Good luck, Nick.

John Mahoney promises that he will track down Jim Slattery the next time he gets to Cleveland and give us a story on our long lost member.

Father Bert Shea has been transferred as pastor from St. Joseph's, Kingston to St. Thomas', Wilmington.

Brassil Fitzgerald was the speaker for the second lecture of the Christian Cultural Series offered by the Newman Club of R. I. State College on December 14. He is on the faculty of Stonehill College, North Easton.

Bill Reid lost his father early in December. To Bill and his family we extend our most sincere sympathy. Thomas B. Reid was a noble gentleman. Charley Sharkey has been detailed by the U. S. Labor Department to study in the Army War College. Jack Fihelly came on from Washington to vacation at his home in Plymouth. Father Dullea, "Porky" Flynn, and "Bo" Mahoney spent a day with him and brought him up to date on the doings of the class.

Frank Heanue of the Boston Globe, our man about town, reports that the fellows are laying low or keeping out of town because he meets so few of them these days.

Father Joe Merrick, S.J., in his Christmas greeting from Baghdad College included an enthusiastic report of the growth in the faculty and student body. The students now number 550. The school spirit is high. A science building has just been completed. Next meeting of the class will be late in April or early May.

NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS

15 Kirk Street, West Roxbury 32 Best wishes to our new pastor, Rev. Joseph D. Meredith, parish priest of St. Joseph's, Kingston, and to our latest appointed pastor, Rev. Leonard A. McMahon, St. Mary's, Rowley. Met Rev. Donald Whalen in December—he is pastor at Rockport.

Frank Carron has recovered from a serious illness.

Rev. John F. Connors is one of Coach Kelley's most loyal rosters—he attends all Arena hockey games.

Leonard Healy has become one of New England's most artistic engravers; he reports a highly successful Christmas season.

George Kearns' 1950 B. C. graduate son has entered the armed services.

We'd all love to see Henry McDermott who has been in semi-retirement from class activities for so many years. What do you say, Eskie?

Reports from Milton are most commentatory of the outstanding work of Doctors Meehan and McSweeney.

FRANCIS L. FORD

9 McKone St., Dorchester 22

It is with heavy heart and tearful eye that "Scriptor" reports the death of our brilliant and beloved classmate, Gerald F. Coughlin, assistant superintendent of the Boston Schools, who passed away December 10 at St. Margaret's Hospital, Dorchester, after a few weeks illness.

"Mr. Class," as he was affectionately called by his classmates, had made sensational progress in the educational field, and the turning out of mourners at his obsequies, from all fields of endeavor, showed the high esteem in which he was held.

As a class we offer our sincere condolence and prayers to his wife, Joan Alice, and their three children, Eileen, Gerald Jr., a freshman at the "Heights", and Paul.

The passing of our exemplary classmate recalls to mind the words of the poet Edwin Markham in writing about Abraham Lincoln: "And when he fell—, he went down. As when a kingly cedar green with boughs, Goes down with a great shout upon the hills, And leaves a lonesome place against the sky."

That "lonesome place" can never be filled. Requiescant in Pace.

We further offer our condolences to Father Patrick H. Collins, S. J. whose father passed away in mid-December.

And also to Jim Reardon whose father died since the latest issue of Alumni News. May they rest in peace.

Because of the illness of Gerry Coughlin, the annual banquet of the class was first postponed and then cancelled at his demise. It is the intention of the class officers to hold the annual Laetare Sunday Communion breakfast, March 4. You will be informed in due time of the details.

Cece McGoldrick has a large number of tickets for the big Boston College Alumni Communion breakfast at the Cathedral and Copley Plaza, Sunday, February 25, with Mass at 9 o'clock. He would like to have the class make a good showing and suggests securing your tickets from him.

Tony Comerford has appeared as an invited guest on the television show "Punts and Passes." He is scheduled for future programs and naturally is considered a "natural."

Opened a copy of the "Shuttle," the magazine of the High School of Practical Arts, Boston, and saw two familiar names—Matt Butler, head of the English department, director, and Ed Dullea, head of the History department, in charge of advertising.

Ed Garrity is planning to spend the month of February in Florida, and Cere McGoldrick has a business and pleasure trip contemplated for the Middle West about mid-February.

Met Walter Mayo in town a few days before Christmas. Walter is still hopeful that his son, Walter, Jr., reported as missing in action in Korea sometime back, may still be heard from. A nice spot here for a prayer.

Congratulations to Owen Gallagher on his appointment as director of the municipal slum clearance and urban redevelopment program. Gaynor Wellings, our erudite attorney, has been named by Mayor Hynes to a committee on civic improvements. The purpose of this committee is to foster goodwill among all groups; to recommend an effective education program to that end; to search causes of tension and find ways of eradicating them; and to discourage vandalism on the part of juvenile offenders. The committee will comprise 50 men and women.

Rev. Francis A. Curley is the new parish priest of St. Theresa's, Sherborn, and Rev. Arthur E. Murray is now stationed at St. John's Rectory, Wellesley Hills.

ANTHONY E. LeBLANC

45 Maynard Street, Arlington 74
Rev. John F. Mullin has been assigned to St. Mary's Rectory, Melrose.

Joe Tribble claims he is the only member of the class still producing. We will debate that matter at our Spring meeting. Right now we have to admit Mr. and Mrs. Tribble have the class baby, Edward Roy, born at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford, on August 6, 1959. This is the fifth for Joe, who is now the proud father of four boys and a girl. He lives in Manchester, Connecticut, and is New England manager for Transit Advertisers, Inc.

WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY

14 Arborway, Jamaica Plain 30

George Donovan, former president of Webster Groves College, Mo., and past president of the Irish Society in St. Louis, now with the U. S. Department of State in Germany, spoke on "Religious and Other Problems in Occupied Germany" as a representative of the U. S. High Commissioner for Germany, John J. McCloy, at an international meeting in Dublin, Ireland, in October. George met President Sean O'Kelly, the Most Rev. Archbishop McQuaid, the U. S. Ambassador and other notables at the conference.

Francis Flanagan gave a Recital of Irish music in New York City in December for the Thomas Moore Associates.

Father Arthur Riley has an article in the recent issue of "Columbia" on the history of the K. of C. He was a guest speaker at the golden jubilee dinner of the Fourth Degree Knights in November.

Columnist Cornelius Dalton of the Traveler in November wrote a complete article after the elections in which he scored the Republicans for the loss of the State. He reviewed the young new blood in the Democratic party and said the Republicans had overlooked youth and new thinking in the party policy. The highlight for us was the extended illustration of how they had passed up our Anthony Julian who, had he been encouraged and supported, was material for the Governorship, according to Dalton. Tony was defeated for the Senate after having served as Representative and the columnist laid the blame for Julian's defeat upon Republican politics. Too bad. It would have been nice to have had a Governor in our class. But we still have Giroux at the State House, and Melley, Mayor of Chelsea.

The Corporate Communion breakfast on February 25, may take the place of the class event tentatively considered for this year.

Have you noticed that 1925 has not been represented on the Alumni Board of Directors or Athletic Board for some time. We had better hold a rally and get Al Hyland up there and "Sonny Foley or Joe Koz or some of the others on the Athletic Board before old age takes its toll.

WILLIAM J. CUNNINGHAM

40 Tennyson St., W. Roxbury 32

We had a terrific turn-out and a wonderful dinner at the Parker House on December 28. Ninety-nine men appeared and we outgrew the original dining hall and had to move to the Roof.

Bill Kavanagh has been hibernating for years; it was good to see him and to see Bernie Bradus, Murray Brown, big Frank Carney, and even bigger Andy Carroll. As a matter of fact, not a few fellows noticed that our other great pitcher, big Ed Mulowney was there with his pal Doc Henry Groden. It was a distinct pleasure to see again so many of our former associates who are in the clergy and who have previously been unable to be with us. Msgr. Matt Stapleton and Msgr. Henry O'Connell were both there as were Fathers Joe Brennan, Mike Costello, Dan Dunn, Jerry Foley, Jim Lally, Jerry O'Neill, Mal Prendergast, Paul Rock, James Shaughnessy and John Sullivan.

Our Jesuits included Father Jim Monks, S.J., and Father Mike Corcoran, S. J., Father Dick Vahey, the Dominican, graced the head of the table and is as handsome as ever.

From our ex-men appeared Fathers Bob Hurley, John Quinlan and Joe Mulligan, and, believe you me, it was wonderful to see them all again. They all looked fine.

The following men were also present: Chester Arnold, Joe Beecher, Dr. Henry Campbell, Charlie Carroll, Frank Casey, Tom Cavanaugh, Tom Coady, Jr., Tom Coakley, John Cohan, Francis Colbert, Jim Collins, George Connors, Joe Cotter, William Cronin, Bill Cunningham, Fred Curley, Robert Daley, Tom Delahunt, Edward Digby, John Dooley, John Dorsey, Ted Drury, William Duffy, Bill Dunn, Dr. Ed Eagan, Bill Finn, Dr. Ed Flynn, Charlie Ford, Tom Geagan, Dr. Francis Golden, Dr. Arthur Gorman, Dr. George Govattos, Ed Harrison, Tom Hegarty, Tom Herlihy, James Hickey, Stanley Howard, Arthur Johnson, Albert Keenan, James Kelly, Ed Lanigan, Bill Lyons, Angus MacNeil, Francis Mahoney, Dr. Molyneux Mathews, Peter McDermott, John McMahon, Art McManus, Francis McOwen, Ted McHardy, John Miskella, Charlie Monahan, Walter Morris, Tom Murphy, John O'Brien, Jim O'Connell, Dr. Robert O'Doherty, Jim O'Donnell, Leo O'Hearn, Charlie O'Malley, Francis O'Rourke, Harry O'Sullivan, Sylvester O'Toole, Anthony Perry, Murray Regan, Francis Riha, Charlie Schroeder, Raymond Scott, Francis Smith, Jim Sullivan, Patrick Sullivan and William Sullivan, Art Murray.

Walter Morris did a great job as chairman.

General Silver Anniversary chairman, Bob Daley, has more good things on the program, the family Communion breakfast at the Heights on May 27, the Class outing, June 8-10, Mayflower Hotel, Manomet, and our luncheon at the Commonwealth Country Club on Alumni Day, June 11.

1927

FRANCIS X. SULLIVAN

51 Presentation Rd., Brighton 35 On December 28 the class met at the Hampshire House on Beacon Street, Boston, for the Christmas reunion.

Among the clergy present were Monsignor Walter Leach, Chancery office; Father Bernie Fiekers, S. J. Holy Cross; Father Joe Ryan, St. John's Seminary; Father John Bowen, Immaculate Conception, Malden; Father Jim Geary, S.J., Boston College.

Others present were: Henry Farley, Jack Buckley, Dan O'Connell, Paul Seymour, Dave Sullivan, Dr. John Carroll, Jim Walsh, Jack Costello, Frank Kelley, Dr. Tim Lyons, Flavel Ray, Charley Bridey, Vin O'Connell, Joe Linehan, Fred Harkins, Bill Marnell, Tom Murphy, Neil Cronin, Vin Carolan, Pete Hickey, Luke McCloskey, Joe Ingoldsby, Phil McArdle, Marty Davis, Joe McKenney, Tom Heffernan, Dan O'Leary, John Toomey and F. X. Sullivan.

Father Joe Ryan spoke on the Pontifical Institute of Medieval Studies at Toronto University, Canada, and Monsignor Leach recounted some of the highlights of his trip to Rome.

It was voted to encourage the members of the class to start putting aside money each month for a 25th anniversary donation to the College in June, 1952. It was suggested that members mail a monthly sum to John Toomey, class treasurer, 60 Reservoir Street, Cambridge. In this way the financial burden will be greatly lightened and lightened.

Dan O'Leary is receiving felicitations on his appointment as the new president of Lowell State Teachers College.

Tom Coughlan is a salesman for the Huse Liberty Mica Co., 171 Camden St., Boston, Electrical Insulating Materials.

Next event: Annual Memorial Mass in May.

LLOYD L. DOYLE

279 Bowdoin St., Dorchester 22 The 23rd annual reunion was held Tuesday evening, January 23 at Jack Delaney's Reservoir Club, Fresh Pond Parkway, Cambridge. John Atkinson, president of the Alumni Ass'n., was the guest speaker. Coach Mike Holovak and Captain-elect Mike Roarke were invited.

Committees for our 25th Anniversary were drawn up and various members will meet from time to time to plan a successful 25th anniversary.

Murray and Elinore Page announce the adoption of baby twins, Sarah Anne and Susan Jane. Muiray is out in Sharon now.

The Class expresses its condolences to our class secretary, Pete Carey, on the death of his mother, Mary T. Carey, who died December 23, 1950.

Owen Dooley's mother and father celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently.

Names in the news: Cornelius T. Scanlon, commentator on television for National Shawmut Bank; Coach "Snooks" Kelley and the hockey team; John McDevitt, superintendent of Waltham schools, and John Henry Morris up at the State House.

JOHN J. SPENCER

527 Broadway, South Boston 27 President Harry Kievenaar has called a meeting of the committee for the annual reunion and dinner of the class. It will be held during the week after Easter, according to tentative plans.

George Donaldson represented the class at the meeting on preparations for the joint Communion breakfast and will shortly be in touch with classmates to assure '29 of a sizeable representation. All are urged to keep these two events well in mind so that, despite the passing of nearly twenty-two years, we may demonstrate by attendance at them that our class spirit is still strong.

A call asking about the date of the reunion was received from Father Tom Fay, S.J., whose assignments for many years prevented his attendance. Fathers Jim McManus and John Frawley, who early demonstrated pulpit technique by delivering the Tower and Tree orations on Class Day, are united as curates at St. Columbkille's Church, Brighton. (Memory depicts Dr. Bill Flynn wrenching a limb from a campus tree that day because the committee had neglected to procure one for the symbolic planting.) John Donahue, the Somerville realtor, has been named a Trustee of the Somerville Savings Bank. Attorney John Mahoney, of the Appellate Tax Board, a frequent attendant at B. C. hockey games at the Arena, often to the dismay of those seated near him at tense moments.

The sympathy of the class is extended to John Martin, who lost his wife; to Joseph Birmingham, whose mother passed away recently, and to the family of our late classmate, Attorney Joseph Donahue. May their souls rest in peace. Jim Alphen, principal assessor of Boston and member of Mayor Hynes' cabinet, at one of his busiest seasons as he prepares for evaluation of the city's multi-millions of taxable property.

Clem Derby is the new manager of the Salem office of the Social Security Administration.

Martin J. Whelan has been named superintendent of the Lincoln Square Boys' Club, Worcester. He is married and has two daughters, Mary and Theresa.

Attorney Henry Leen in frequent demand as a speaker before Holy Name Societies and other groups. Still sitting on that Brink's reward as well.

Bill McCann, class champion fatter, and president Harry Kievenaar displayed their numerous progeny on their Christmas cards. Bill, with ten, far in the lead, although we would like to hear from Tim Nyhan, who got off to a flying start in 1929, with the arrival of the class twins.

Attorney Ed Lee and your correspondent, with five apiece, recently devoted a conversational interlude to brooding over the common cold, which seemed at the time endemic in our households.

Paul Broderick, USN, stationed in Tennessee, wrote to Leo Donahue, the Somerville school master, that he had an opportunity to watch the Eagles play Ole Miss. at Memphis.

Had the pleasure of running into Al Dowd, the Everett schoolmaster, at an Everett football game this fall. Ted Duffy another regular hockey game attendant.

Eddie Hopkins is a realtor and head of a cooperative bank in South Boston.

My telephone (SO 8-3854) is a funeral home line and is always covered, so any message of interest to classmates will reach me. Your help is needed to keep these notes going.

1930

JOHN F. DWYER

45 Belvoir Road, Milton 86

The sympathy of the class is extended to Frank Tallino upon the loss of his father a pioneer restaurateur and founder of Tallino's restaurant at Chestnut Hill. Also to Father Bill Proctor, Springfield on the death of his brother, Rev. John C. Proctor, S.J.

Rev. Donald McGowen, director of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, addressed St. Elizabeth's Hospital Nurses Alumnae Association at Keith Auditorium, Brighton, on November 28.

We anticipate that a large number of '30 men will attend Mass and receive Holy Communion with the central Alumni group on February 25 at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross. Communion breakfast will follow at the Copley Plaza where Most Rev. John J. Wright, '31, will be the guest speaker. Please call or write to your correspondent for reservations—40 Broad St., Boston—Hubbard 2-5231.

Frank McNulty is working on the 1951 Alumni Loyalty Fund. Each year has shown improved results. Frank expects that our class will make another good showing in 1951.

Among classmates seen at the Holy Cross game were Paul Mahony from New York, Jim Carolan, Jim Lanagan, John Haverty, John Grandfield, Henry Lynch and Tom Kelly.

Congratulations to John E. Hurley upon his re-election as State Treasurer.

Drs. John T. Foley and Joseph Cotter attended the first class of doctors to be trained for basic civil defense by the City of Boston Health Department.

Hon. John J. Connelly, vice-president of the Varsity Club, acted as chairman of the Sponsor's Committee for the highly successful twelfth annual dinner of the Club on January 21 at the Hotel Statler.

1932

JOHN P. CONNOR

28 Dickinson Rd., Brighton 35
Ed Reardon is executive secretary of the Distillery Rectifying and Wine Workers Union, A. F. of L. Major John B. Connelly is at headquarters of the 8th AAA Group, Fort Devens.

Ed Herlihy has added TV announcing to his many radio appearances. The Herlihy's now have three children, Jeanne, 9; Donald, 7, and Stephen 2½.

Joe Wilson is on active duty in Korea.

1933

JAMES M. CONNOLLY

10 Pine Street, Belmont 78

Each year the class committee rotates the various assignments. This year the organization is as follows: Chairman, John Hanrahan Chaplain, Rev. Wilfred Bouvier, S. J., Treasurer, John Curley; Secretary, Jim Connolly; Fund Agent, Ray Callen; Program Chairman, Charlie O'Brien.

The Mass for the deceased members was well attended and about thirty members stayed for the breakfast and the talk by Rev. Ernest B. Foley, S.J., Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Father Jim Cullinan is back in the Chaplain's Corps, and Father Jed Desmond is chaplain at Cushing General at Framingham.

Phil McNiff, Lamont Librarian at Harvard, is active on the committee for Catholic Book Week.

Thomas J. Lyons, Auburndale, has been elected president of the Newton Kiwanis. He makes his home at 1881 Commonwealth Avenue and is director of the Thomas J. Lyons Funeral Service.

Charlie Donohoe has been called back for service in the Air Force. New addresses have been noted for Ed Conaty at 905 Main Street, Worcester; Andrew J. McGlynn, 2850 Kinney Drive, Walnut Creek, California; Patrick J. Duane, 21 Locust Park, Albany, N. Y.

Rev. Thomas F. Eovacious is located at a mission in Elysburg, Pa. Our class dinner will be held as soon as all danger of an invasion of snow and cold air from Canada has passed. Probably it will be the first week in April so please keep it in mind. We hope to hold it at the new Alumni Centre.

As fund agent for last year I want to thank the class for its generous cooperation. We increased both the number of donors and the amount of the gift. 72 members contributed $977.00.

We have extra copies of the Memorial Mass cards listing the deceased members.

Class dues for 1951 are badly needed for mailing expenses, etc. Please send your dollar to John Curley, Paine Webber Jackson and Curtis, 24 Federal Street, Boston.

1934

DANIEL I. CRONIN

3 Laird Road, West Medford 55

The sympathy of the Class is extended to the widow of Bob O'Riley. Bob, who was Supervisor of Claims for the Home Indemnity Company, died at the Symmes Arlington Hospital from complications which set in as the result of a stomach operation.

Lou Musco is very busy these days directing plans for the Corporate Communion Breakfast of the Alumni Association, which will be held on February 25th. Lou is also President of the Varsity Club and the B. C. Club of Somerville. Leo Hogan has received a promotion in the Clear Weave Corporation, and has transferred from Boston to Manchester, New Hampshire. Leo has one child (a five-year-old daughter) and has just built a home in Manchester.

Lou Messina of Somerville is a part-time real estate appraiser for the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation. Lou is in the general insurance business at 82 Devonshire Street, Boston.

Herb Crimlisk recently transferred from the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company to the New Amsterdam Casualty Company.

Fr. John Cogavin has been appointed Deanery Director in Middlesex County for the Holy Name Society. Your reporter received a Christmas card from Major Ed Halligan, USA. Ed and his family (wife and two daughters) live at Fort Kobe in the Panama Canal Zone. He is in charge of the defense training program for the Canal Zone.

As usual, the Class is supporting our successful hockey team. Among those seen at a recent game were: Greg Sullivan, Bill Parks, Tim Sullivan, Bob Ott, Father Saunders, Tim Donohue, and "Chick" Artessani.

Dr. John Barry of Lawrence was the guest speaker at the November meeting of the Holy Name Society of Holy Family parish, Lynn. He is school physician in Lawrence and is on the staff of the General Hospital there.

Also on the speaker's circuit recently were Dr. Bill Kvaraceus, author of "Juvenile Delinquency and the School" who lectured at the Bacon PTA, Framingham, and Nazzareno Cedrone who spoke to the members of the Ricci Mathematics Academy at the Heights on the "mechanical brain" electronic computer. The latter is engaged in industrial research while working for his doctorate at Brown University.

Dr. John Cronin was the guest speaker at the October meeting of the Salisbury Welfare Association. He is the professor and consultant on Social Welfare at the Institute of Public Service at the University of Connecticut.

WILLIAM J. FITZSIMONS

40 Court Street, Boston 8

Ray Belliveau wants VOLUNTEERS. He has taken over an Organized Unit in the United States Naval Reserve, Shipping Supply Officers' Group. He is extremely interested in applicants. Billets in all commissions are open, from Ensign to Commander. Don't rush, but anyone interested may contact Ray at Blue Hills 8-0174. Fr. Bill Casey, S.J., is still teaching at the College.

Jack Crowley is assigned to Mitchell Field, Long Island, New York. Jack and his family visited Boston during the Christmas Holiday. Bob Curran is going around these days with a broader smile than usual—the reason, another daughter. Bob and his wife now have a son and two daughters. The latest member of the family was born at St. Margaret's Hospital on January 8, 1951.

Joe Curran is a member of the Graduate Athletic Board that recently selected Mike Holovak as the new B. C. coach.

Tony De Vico, Commander in the United States Navy, returned from China to take over as Assistant Legal Officer of the First Naval District in Boston. Welcome home, Tony!

"Chick" Featherstone is now working in Washington, D. C.

Bill Hannon, formerly of Attleboro, is now with the Stamford Advocate, Stamford, Connecticut. Good luck, Bill!

Dan Keenan is associated with the Department of Labor in Washington, D. C.

Jim Lydon now resides in Scituate and has become very active in civic matters in that community. In addition to his Scituate law office, he still maintains an office in Boston.

Bob Meade was recently appointed Assistant Principal in the Dearborn School District in Roxbury. Congratulations to Bob and his family.

Tony Murphy, now residing in the town of Weymouth, has established his own business and deals in metal warehousing and selling. Jerry Treanor is working in Washington, D. C. He is associated with the Internal Revenue Department and resides in the Chevy Chase area.

A news item released on S. Bernard Mills of Dorchester notes that he is the youngest area director of the International Refugee Organization. From headquarters at Nellingen in Germany's Wurttemberg-Baden he directs IRO camps and installations housing 12,000 displaced persons. Dan Holland has been installed for a second term as commander of the Crosscup-Pishon Post, American Legion.

JOSEPH P. KEATING

18 Reynolds Avenue, Natick

The sympathy of the Class is extended to Pat McCarthy, Brookline, whose father died in January. Ex-Presy Fred Roche recently resigned his post as Chairman of the State Housing Board and has returned to private law practice. Fred did a wonderful job on the Housing Board and enhanced his reputation no end. "Tip" O'Neill was reelected Speaker of the House in the General Court—congratulations "Tip". A co-worker of "Tip's" and legislator from Milford, Maurice Fitzgerald, has been recalled to active duty with the Navy.

Jim McNally has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He is presently assigned to the New York Port, and his family resides at 528 Closter Dock Road, Closter, N. J.

Al Fulchino has been appointed principal of the Paul Revere School, Revere.

Bill Baxter has moved from Taunton to Binghamton, N. Y., and Steve Hart and family have moved into their new Randolph home.

Ted Galligan resigned his football coaching post at Rindge Technical High School in Cambridge after five years. His work there drew high praise from all Boston school boy sport writers.

"Fritzie" Hart was with Lever Brothers for twelve years but said "no soap" on transferring to New York when "the boy wonder" (?) pulled stakes last summer. "Fritzie" is now associated with J. G. Kaufman, a downtown Boston Television outlet.

Tony D'Amore, now married, with three children, and slightly balding is Traffic and Transportation agent with Hartol Oil Co. Tony is also attending B. C. Law School.

Joe Harvey continues his fine work as a feature writer with the Boston Globe; Brendan Shea had the honor of being the first member of the Class to have been selected to give the address of thanks to the main speaker at Catholic Alumni Sodality; genial "slue-foot" Bill Hayward doing very well with a large New York advertising concern, was in town for the holidays. Or is he back in Boston permanently?

The main piece of news for this issue I have purposely saved for the last. BBRREENNTT GGOOR-RDDOON — no there is nothing wrong with your eyes, you are seeing double, which seems to be the proper way of announcing that Brent Gordon and his Alice became the proud parents of TWIN BOYS in November. After four non-eligible future Eagles i.e. daughters, the twin boys, Brenton S. Jr., and Bruce A., have lifted Brent into the clouds. Both sons have already been enrolled in the Class of 1971 and practically know the first verse of "For Boston".

Ed Clancy and his wife spent the Christmas holidays with his family in Brockton. They flew on from Arizona where Ed is counsel for a large concern.

Atty Gerald Bouvier is the new commander of Lowell Post No. 4, Franco-American War Veterans. He is married and has two sons David and Claude.

Frank Murphy was married on October 28 to Florence Sullivan, Dorchester.

1938

THOMAS F. TRUE, Jr.

65 Northdale Rd., West Roxbury 32
The class of '38 was struck with the realization that we are actually in the war when, just before Christmas, news was received that Major John Canney, USMC, had been killed in action in Korea. Among those present at John's pro-burial Mass were: Ed Supple, Bob and Mrs. Callahan, Jim O'Donoghue, Bob O'Connell, Joe Butler, Ed Toomey, Joe Powers, Tom O'Connor and Tom True. To his wife and family we extend our sincere sympathy.

Dan Barry, assistant manager of the Poland Springs House for the past two summers, is at the Palm Beach Biltmore for the winter season. Dan will return to the Maine resort next summer.

The Jim Regans have added a third son to their family.

Kev Sullivan has been recalled by the Army.

Rev. Dennis Brady, O.P., has been transferred from Minnesota to the Holy Ghost Rectory at Hammond, La.

1939

FRANCIS J. McDERMOTT

12 Neponset Ave., Hyde Park 36 Lou Sacco, the chairman, has announced a definite date for the Class Social - Friday, March 30 at the New Alumni Center. Indicate this affair on your calendars now, and let's have a large turnout. It's an affair for the ladies as well. There will be music, dancing, refreshments. Lou will contact you with more details very soon.

About twenty-three members of the class shared a pleasant reunion at the Philomatheia Club on November 29.

John Gaquin has given up his position with the Dept. of Labor to become Director of Massachusetts State Housing Program.

Tom is practicing law in Plymouth, is chairman of the Plymouth Housing Authority, and Director of Plymouth Veterans' Services. George Devlin was recently a papa for the second time. Jack Hart also has two children; he resides in Mattapan, and is with the New England Fire Insurance Rating Association.

Father Jim McNiff is doing missionary work in Molina, Chile with the Maryknolls. An interesting letter which he sent to Paul Needham and which Paul passed on to me revealed the backwardness of Chile and the plight of the farmers shackled by poverty, ignorance and strong remnants of an old feudal system. Jim in his fight for the social and spiritual welfare of the people has set up a school with his associates, and could use financial assistance. The address, if you are interested, is: Rev. James F. McNiff, M.M., Colegio Conzalo Correa, Castilla 196, Molina, Chile.

Father John Nelson, en route to Carlisle Barracks and the Air Corps, visited with John Donovan in Yonkers, N.Y.

Larry Fitzpatrick, Somerville school teacher, has been named commanding officer of a newly activated Air Force Reserve unit at Bedford.

Latest on Bill Brown. He is with the Shawmut Bank Automobile Finance Dept. Pete Ricciuti's monument business in Quincy has a new name: Hancock Monument Co. Pete, incidentally, is insisting that it will be a boy in February; he already has three girls. I welcomed the New Year with Pete and Ed Callahan.

Len Hennessey lives on Long Island. Married to the former Eleanor McManus, Boston Teachers' College '38, he has two boys and a girl. Bob Fee has three sons. His wife is an Australian, whose maiden name was O'Fee. That's simplifying life!

JOHN J. LARNER
8 Walnut Street,
North Quincy 71

The big news of course is Mike Holovak's appointment as head coach. It couldn't have been given to a more deserving fellow and the whole class stands behind him, wishing him success with his future teams. In really getting behind him, the class is reminded that material on the field makes the first downs and TDs. Several members of the class in the coaching profession should recommend to their charges that Boston College is the School to go to. An addition to the Holovak family is due in April. Fullback, maybe.

Dr. Tom O'Connor, who has been practising in Troy, N.H., has been called to active Army duty. He reported to Fort Bragg, N.C. Married to the former Mary C.
